

The Doctor is busy.

Well, not if we can help it.

At Healthsoft we understand the workloads that doctors are under. We know exactly how much of their time is taken up checking transcripts. That's why all our processes are geared towards ensuring that we take as much as possible off their plate. That's why we don't just focus on speed but give equal importance to accuracy and error checking as well. That's why our clients swear by us.

Set your doctors free. Call Healthsoft today.

Healthsoft
Dependable. Always.

Consider These.

You need quick accurate transcripts.

What would make more sense? Hiring in-house transcribers who at their best will be all that the team can be or a company that specializes in transcribing and can draw the best from a large pool, each with an area of speciality.

You need a company that can take quality control issues out of your hands.

How many quality controllers can one department have? One. Two. How about five or ten? Any medical transcription company that is serious will put in measures to ensure that transcripts are accurate. All the time.

You need people with domain knowledge.

Who understands the overall requirements better? A freelancer, an in-house department or a company specializing in medical transcription. A company that has been built solely on collective knowledge, expertise and experience.

You need people who know the difference between hypoglycemia and hyperglycemia.

Hypoglywhat? Actually the question should be Hypo or Hyper? Understanding medical terminology is crucial, failure of which could result in a catastrophe.

You need people who are dependable... always.

That's why we exist.

Our online transcription platform is built over secure internet architecture using the right blend of voice and data technologies. It is constantly upgraded with the latest technologies to provide you with the highest level of service. We can integrate into almost all available dictation systems and proprietary formats.

HIPAA Compliant Secure 128-bit Encryption Multiple Delivery.

Results That Matter
